Happy Birthday

Idaho & PHS

In addition to this being Idaho's centennial anniversary, the executive council discovered that part of the school building was 50 years old. A party was thrown to celebrate the two festive occasions with everyone invited.

Nick Shumway knows that Bryon Larson and Tyler Nielson aren't "necking", they're just playing pass the orange.

Beyond Victory . . .

more than just a football game

Above and Beyond truly defined this year's homecoming. The week's activities, assembly, snake dance, bonfire and formal dance, were enjoyed by all. Dress up days and activities brought out the real personalities of PHS. The week long activities climaxed to the football game against South Freemont. The Indians really showed their stuff by winning 41 to 12. During halftime the winners of the class competitions were announced: The seniors swept everything- the float, hall and window. For clubs, the Yearbook staff won the window competition and the Art club won for best float. When asked what she would remember most about the Homecoming Assemblies, Programs V.P. Kandice Kotter said "up at 7:00 Monday morning and to bed at 2:00 Sunday morning aptly sums up Homecoming '89 for me."

*P*owderpuff, sponsored by the War Cry and organized by Dionne Moser, Bruce Castleton, and Mrs. Bonnie Jensen, had an excellent crowd this year. The game started out with Wynette Pace scoring the first touchdown for the seniors. After that, they never looked back. The score was 33-0 ending the first half of the game.
During halftime, the cheerleaders kept everyone entertained and the royalty was crowned. Doug Meek, our senior king was quoted as saying, "I considered it a great honor and it was the highlight of my night." Jake Hamblin was named the junior prince. The second half of the game started and ended about the same. The final score was 42-0 leaving the seniors with their second victory in a row, having won last year as juniors, also.

Togetherness

Students and Activities; A good mix

Unity week began as a replay of last year's with an assembly to congratulate the boys basketball team for taking state for the second consecutive year. The students enjoyed many dress up days, such as: Granola day, Toga day, Caveman day, Simpsons day, and Best dress day. The afternoon activities included a VW stuff, a slave auction, a barbarian burger binge, a slam-dunk contest, and after dinner mints with punch. The week ended with an entertaining assembly.

1

1. Thursday brought the whole Simpson family; Homer, Marge, Bart, Lisa, and Maggie, to the halls of PHS. 2. The Barbarian Burger Binge was a close competition with Bernie Zoellner (center) coming out on top. 3. Amber Edwards, Heather Hinckley, Mrs. Stewart, Lisa Stone, and Melanie Christensen model their granola attire. 4. The sophomores try to be humble "somebodies" at the Unity assembly.

5

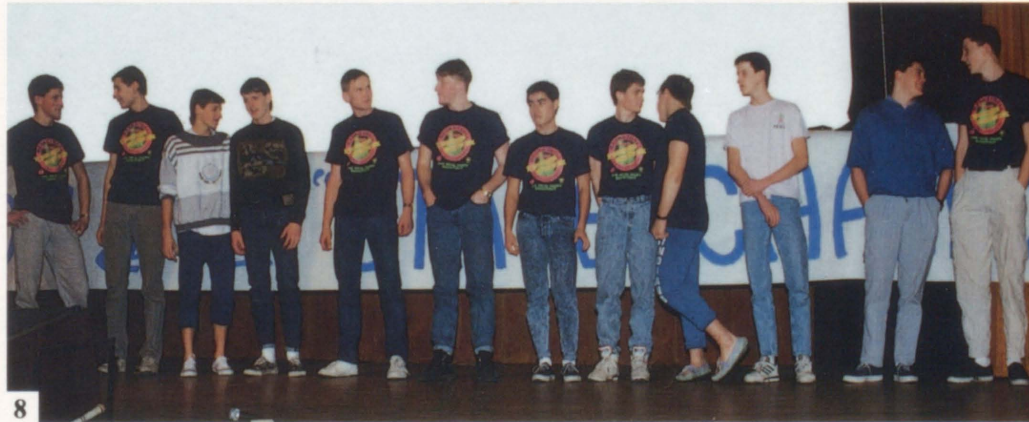

5. Aaron Womack jams his way to win the slam dunk contest. 6. Togas seem to be the new fad for these students. 7. Shawn Jensen drives a hard M&M bargain for Catherine Koch and Rosanne Chadwick. 8. The boys basketball team's victory assembly ceremoniously began Unity Week. 9. Carrie Stewart, Jenny Hyde, Gema Munoz, and Heather Christensen still live in the past. 10. These juniors fell to the victorious 'stuffing' freshmen.

Enchantment

Under the Sea

*I*t was a night of elegance as many couples enjoyed this year's formal dance, the Unity Ball. It was held in the high school gym for the third consecutive year. The gym was decorated as an underwater scene complete with a sunken ship and many treasure chests. The theme song "Somebody" was sung by Kandice Kotter and Bruce Koch and accompanied by Matt Beecher. The promenade and the crowning of the royalty also provided enjoyable entertainment.

1

1. Jodie Stone and Wes Harris took part in the well performed promenade. 2. The refreshments enhanced the romantic atmosphere. 3. Travis L. Talbot dazzles Colette Seamons as they take a break from dancing. 4. The royalty for 1990 was Allen Foss, king; Sheila Dunkley, queen; Chad Moser, Leslie Kingsford, Wade Meek, and Michelle Hansen, attendants. Scott Ward, prince; Amy Abrams, princess; Doug Roberts, Stephanie Smith, Jake Hamblin and Jenny Hyde, attendants. 5. Bruce Castleton and Carrie Stewart dazzle the crowd during the floorshow. 6. Kandice Kotter and Bruce Koch sang this year's theme song, accompanied by Matt Beecher. 7. The many hours spent were evident in the decorations. 8. Bruce Koch and Mary Jean Newbold help the promenade become a success. 9. A good turn out brought all a memorable evening.

Fright Night

An Eerie Thrill

Halloween was a bizarre night for all. A dance in the gym with music provided by Z103 Hit Machine and a wide variety of unique costumes brought out the Halloween spirit in everybody. "We were pleased with the outcome," said Shelli Phillips, a member of the exec council, which sponsored the night. Other activities included a fortune teller, alias Madame Cattani, a cake walk sponsored by the Phi-Dels, and donut bobbing sponsored by KIK.

Travis Talbot and Colette Seamons disguised as cavemen were named king and queen.

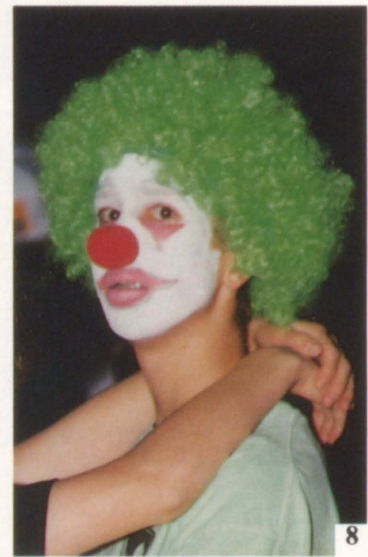

6

1. Dana Kay Dunn, "The Little Devil". 2. Rustin Hatch is ready to eat the cake he won. 3. Wade Meek, Curtis Poole, and Dalan Andersen reveal their true identity. 4. The dance was a real "hit" with a lot of involvement from students. 5. Carrie Stewart and Kandice Kotter were all ears. 6. Curtis Larsen is amazed with the future he is awaiting. 7. Debbie Harris, Dionne Moser, Heather Christensen, Shane Hansen, Travis Talbot, and Colette Seamons were chosen as having the best costumes.

10

8. There is no clowning around for Sean Bell. 9. Could this masked monster be Ranae Grover? 10. Rick Fellows, Jake Hamblin, Doug Meek, Trent Johnson, and Tyler Nielson finally found a warm place to stay for the night.

A load of vitality was evident in the studentbody during the Christmas assembly. There was a superb show put on by all who participated. Later that night, at the dance, the theme seemed to be "turn out the lights, the party's over" when the power went out in town. All in all, yuletide cheer was felt by many.

1. The choir gave the studentbody a sneak preview of their Poland program. 2. Willie Nelson's (alias Aaron Hampton) surprise performance went over well. 3. The Phi-Dels show precise moves and dashing smiles. 4. Stacie Smith, Melissa McEntire, and Hannah Costley play a medley of Christmas carols. 5. Are Nathan Ward and Kevin Geddes really angels?

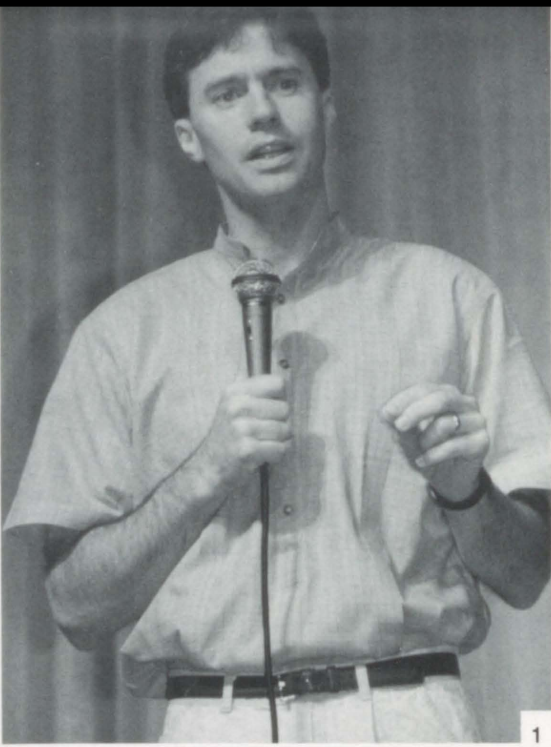

Classroom Relief

amusing assemblies

A variety of assemblies were presented to the student body of PHS this year. There were the usual drug assemblies and a few good-time ones also. Students enjoy getting out of class for just about anything, even to hear about Dick and Jane.

1. Tom Flick, a former NFL quarterback, spoke to the student body about peer pressure. 2. Steve, Carol & Michelle performed a very amusing act for students. 3. Dr. Harry Edwards, a clinical toxicologist, told us the Dick and Jane story. 4. The hypnotist is a yearly favorite.

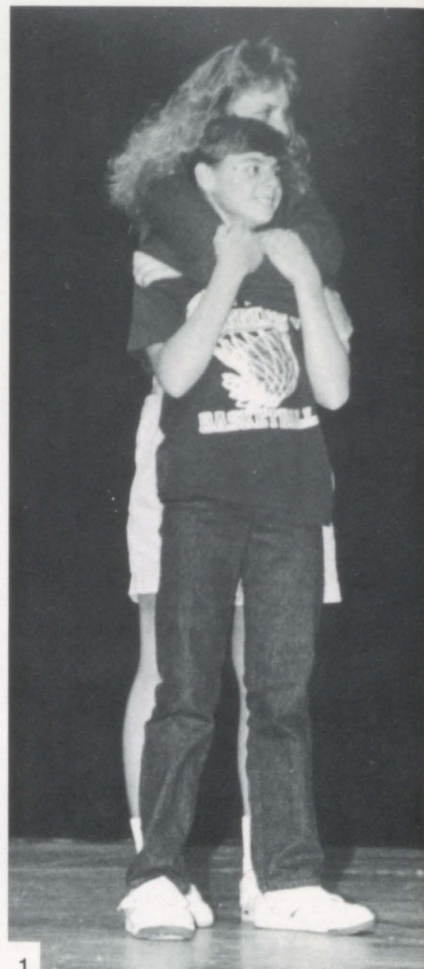

All Fun and Games

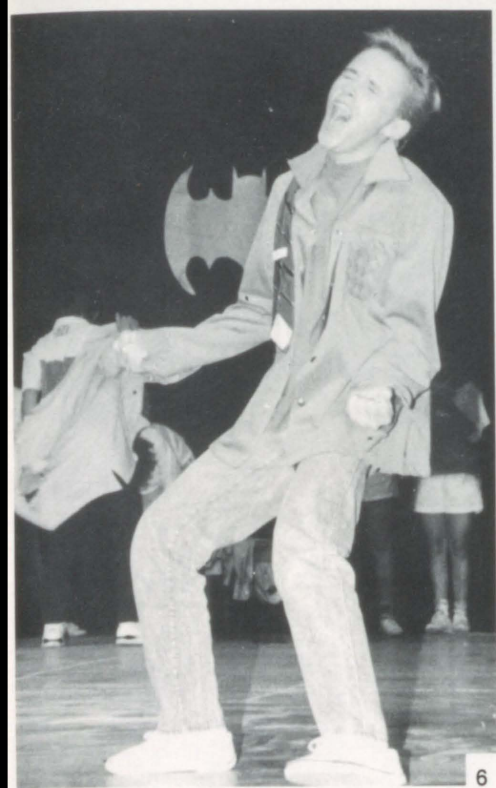

Spirits kept high

Throughout the school year, the students enjoyed the pep assemblies put on by the cheerleaders and the executive council. The pep assemblies were held prior to important athletic and school events.

During the pep assemblies, there were games, skits, and other creative activities that many students had the opportunity to participate in and show how much school spirit they have.

1. Shelli Phillips and Troy Bowles find true love in the Dating Game. 2. Some pep assemblies were held in front of the school to send students off to state. 3. Jon Schumann can't seem to find his own mother! 4. The cheerleaders added spirit to the pep assemblies. 5. Trent Johnson resists being distracted by Bridgett Burn's "Leggs". 6. The real Ben Allred finally comes out!

7. The executive council provided munchies for the teams going to state. 8. The clever skits kept the students entertained. 9. Kari Ransom and Wyatt Kissinger had fun at the freshman initiations. 10. Andy Cromwell, Chad Winward, and Trent Johnson do their imitation of Batman, Robin and the Joker. 11. The freshmen and seniors against the sophomores and juniors was a real tug of war!

Fearless Leaders

winners take all

The halls were cluttered with campaign slogans from individuals running for studentbody office or cheerleader during Election week. "Both sides are playing fair and both parties got along really well, there was good sportsmanship." commented Brooke Barrington after observing and participating in the week's events. The competition this year was between "The Wolf Pack" and "Chandler's Champions". Humor and good nature from everyone made the week fun and exciting.

1. Captain "Bucky" will save Melody Parker's day anytime. 2. When "Norm" speaks, everyone listens. 3. Penny Taylor, Andy Cromwell, Andrea Carter, and Boone Smith portray some of the higher classed West Siders. 4. Voting this year was a very serious and difficult thing to do. 5. Carrie Stewart can now be seen regularly on the Johnny Carson Show. 6. Never fear, the PHS Ninja Turtles are here! 7. The Simpsons say, "Vote Blake, vote Blake, he's great". 8. Ryan Andersen, and Eric Hansen really got "into" the campaigning. 9. "The Wolf Pack" relives the 50's.

10. Chad Winward was the "Tweedle Bugs" hero. 11. Both parties worked many hours decorating windows and halls. 12. "Chandler's Champions" boogie to the beat.

Election Returns

for next year's leaders

The Inaugural Ball was the climax of Election Week. After a week of hard campaigning, there was nothing left for the candidates to do but wait around nervously for the announcement of the results. The outgoing exec. council and cheerleaders, following a long standing tradition, developed clever skits with the winners' names "hidden" in the script. After the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat, the rest of the evening was spent on the dance floor.

3

1. Janalee Balls receives congratulations on becoming a cheerleader. 2. The cheerleaders spoofed several well known commercials to announce next year's squad. 3. Sam Mitchell aspires to become a ballerina. 4. Curtis Poole and Rachel Lucia emceed the floor show from EXTV. 5. Rick Fellows and Dalan Andersen had an unusual way of keeping the budget in the black.

If you've got it,

Flaunt It!

The Juniors wanted to do something a little different this year and they blew the crowd away with their male version of the Junior Miss Competition. The Mr. Manly Competition consisted of talents, interviews, and a group dance. Besides the contestants' talent presentation, there were pauses for some skits including "The Dance of the Raindrops", and a lipsync to "Pump Up the Jam." The participants were: Aaron Womack, Andy Cromwell, Bryan Hansen, Curtis Larson, Sean Bell, Blake Chandler, Trent Johnson, and Trent Andra. Mr. Manly was awarded to Andy Cromwell. First runner-up was Trent Johnson. The assembly provided a hilarious diversion for the student body.

1. Andy Cromwell's school spirit shows through during his talent presentation. 2. The kickline the Phi-Dels envy. 3. The contestants find Stephanie Smith very "saxy". 4. Holli Niederhauser and Jenny Hyde "pumps up the jam". 5. Trent Johnson demonstrates his swimming technique in his physical fitness routine. 6. Trent Andra's bologna has a first name.

Annie

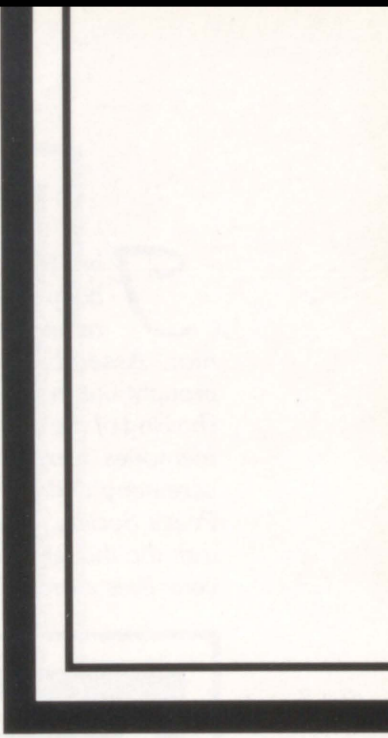

It's a Hard Knock Life

This year the musical put on was "Annie". "Annie" is the story of an orphan girl who gets the opportunity to spend two weeks with the "billionaire", Warbucks. This year's cast did an outstanding job with the absence of the director, Mrs. Heers. Halfway through rehearsals, Mrs. Heers was hospitalized with pneumonia, leaving the cast to "take over" with the help of Mrs. Cattani and Mr. Montague. Bruce Castleton commented that "it helped us to work closer together to bring it about." Matt Beecher with the help of Mr. Montague, did an excellent job of accompanying the musical.

Last Chance

to make a good impression

The Seniors left the student body and faculty something to remember them by in the Senior Assembly. Good humor was brought out in the senior skits and the showing of the Simpsons, and heart-felt memories were made by the candle ceremony and the theme of the Dead Poet's Society, which left the audience with the thought, "Seize the day, make your lives extraordinary."

The Senior cheerleaders perform for the last time in their high school career. 4. The traditional candle ceremony left all the Seniors with the happy thought, "We're finally through." 5. Curtis Poole and Sally Wad-doups emceed the program. 6. Gema Munoz gave us a small taste of her Spanish lifestyle in her dance. 7. Alessandra Diamanti and Mimi Saida show off their funky moves. 8. The Senior Assembly wouldn't be complete without mimicking the teachers a little. 9. The secretaries made great announcers for the Senior Personalities. 10. All year long Mary Ann Keller and Shelli Phillips have literally worshiped the ground Allen Foss walked on. 11. Heather Christensen models next year's high fashion.

Break From Boredom

A Great Success

Some of the major events of the school year are dances, which help break the monotony of the usual school activities. Dances this year range from formal and best dress to stag and girls' choice. One of the unique dances this year was the Christmas Dance. If the girl asked the guy, he was to treat and vice versa. Another thing that made this dance something to remember was when the power went out half way through. Curtis Poole commented that "There was a good turnout", which was one of the factors making all of this year's dances successful.

1. The Oakwood was the home of many dances. 2. Tom Andra and Stephanie Stokes are indecisive about leading. 3. These students figured as long as they were dressed up for the dance they might as well get their pictures taken. 4. Barbara Fellows and Tony Hyde do the western swing. 5. This year and the past couple of years, PHS has had an abundance of stag dances.

6. Mike Mersman and Svenja Meteling add a little foreign flare. 7. After a week of fun filled activities the homecoming dance was enjoyed by all. 8. The pleasant atmosphere was enjoyed by all the students. 9. Many students supported the Halloween dance. 10. Aaron Womack, Wade Meek, Ryan Thomas, and Curtis Poole all fight for the top. 11. Tiffany Cole, Gema Munoz, Jenny Webster, Nikki Mather and Sally Waddoups give a yell for all the great dances this year.

Raging Waters, in Salt Lake, was the choice for this year's senior trip. Although the group that went was small, those who went had fun in the sun. It provided one last chance to let their hair down and act silly before they graduate and are expected to act more mature.

1. Doug Meek, Darrin Larsen, Justin Larson and Rick Fellows figure if you've got it, flaunt it! 2. The bus ride to and from Salt Lake was half the fun. 3. Jodie Stone and Colette Seamons love the wet look in hair styles. 4. Mr. Womack was on hand to keep things under control. 5. The seniors take a break to pose for a group photo.

Wishful Thinking

A Genie suddenly appeared within the halls of P.H.S. and offered each Junior a wish. First, Genie's eyes fell upon Holli Niederhauser and she wished that someday, somehow she could go to heaven. Now Genie was not quite sure if he could grant that wish, so he moved toward Rachel Lucia who wished for no fatal diseases. Next, David Ranes, well he simply wished for more wishes. Julie Womack wished that Tom Cruise could be her next door neighbor. Shawn Harris wished for a girlfriend with a twelve inch neck. Now Genie knew that one could definitely be granted. Darrell Smith wished for gas (more than he could ever use), so Genie gave him 100,000 pounds of beans. Next Ryan Perry wished that he could build a 215 mile long, faster than light spaceship by 2070. Genie then floated down the hall and come upon Jana Christensen who wished she could simply learn by osmosis, and Stacy Smith wished there was such a thing a calorie free chocolate. Trent Andra really wished he could someday be reincamated as Elvis Presley, and Cardon Cole simply wished for Melese Moser.

DEPECHE MODE

Trendy

We are constantly bombarded by commercials and advertisement trying to convince us that to be "in", we have to use their product or enjoy their form of entertainment. By the time you get to be a junior, you feel you are old enough to sort through the hype and make up you own mind about what you like and don't like. A survey of the junior class produced the following preferences: The favorite perfumes include Colors, Liz Claiborne, Lady Stetson and Eternity. The guys spruced up with Obsession, Polo, Drakkar, Elsha and Brute. Crest was the choice for polishing the pearlies. Pert Plus and Salon Selectives topped the list for shampoos with Paul Mitchell and Salon Selectives as the preferred brands of mousse. Secret and SpeedStick found favor in battling B.O., while Cover Girl and Mary Kay were used to hide those complexion problems. Edge gained an edge over the other shaving creams. Extra Winterfresh gum was the top chew and Snickers seemed to be the best way to ward off a craving for sucrose. Pepsi and Mountain Dew are the option for this generation. Good old reliable pizza continues to be the most eaten food among teenagers. On the entertainment scene, most juniors enjoy just hanging out with friends especially in uptown Logan. The juniors show their high intellectual minds by being stimulated by the Simpsons on T.V. Their two favorite musical groups were Depeche Mode and Milli Vanilli and the most listened to songs were "Somebody" and "Right Here Waiting". "Look Who's Talking" was the pick of the flicks.

DAYDREAMS

It's a hot, sultry day in an afternoon class that happens to be on the sunny south side of the building. Eyelids begin to get heavy as the teacher continues to lecture and gives the assignment. Many find ourselves drifting to another world, fantasizing. Surveying the Sophomore class on their daydreams, the most common ones were:

- being too bored to dream
- being at home sleeping
- being rich enough to buy grades
- being with my boy/girlfriend (or anyone of the opposite sex for that matter)
- being the star of a professional sports team
- riding a horse down the hall

Capturing Memories

*H*is last year of advising the yearbook staff found Mr. Buys with a bunch of crazy girls. The staff consisted of Brooke Barrington, Tara Bodrero, Leslie Kingsford, Dionne Moser, Lisa Moser, and Jodie Stone. They spend a lot of time during and after school working to produce a pleasing yearbook that will symbolize the many experiences of the past year.

Extra! Extra!

Reporting the major events in the school while splicing in a little humor, this year's Warcry staff was kept busy from September to May. Mrs. Bonnie Jensen's charges put in many hours before and after school, both at the school and down at the Citizen, producing a quality student newspaper. This year's co-editors were Bruce Castleton and Dione Moser.

1. Bruce Castleton looks pretty official down at the Citizen. 2. Mrs. Cattani's room doubled as an early morning copy prep room. 3. Tiffiny Cole came up with a clever window decoration. 4. The Warcry float was a big hit in the homecoming parade.

Polska

This year was an especially exciting one for Mr. Matthew Montague's capella choir. In addition to the numerous performances in the Preston area, the choir received a unique opportunity to travel to Czechoslovakia and Poland for a couple of weeks and witness some of the rapid changes taking place as Eastern Europe struggles out from under the oppressive grip of communism. Heather Christensen commented that it was the "greatest learning experience of my life!" They performed in many ornate archaic cathedrals and impromptu performances in the streets and squares. It was an experience they will never forget. Back home, they outclassed the other schools at District Festival, receiving a superior rating. They finished the year by singing at graduation, making nearly sixty appearances during the year. Joanna Fackrell was the choir president this year.

The Academic Honors class had another outstanding year, representing PHS very well. Mrs. Mary Heers took charge of the class this year, spurring the students on to academic excellence. At the Idaho State Academic Decathlon, the team placed 2nd and just "missed 1st by a hair's breath" behind Jerome, according to Mrs. Heers. All but two members of the team received individual medals in at least one subject area. Ryan Thomas, the club president, was the top overall winner in the Honors category, while Brian Hansen placed 3rd overall in the varsity category. Ryan also placed 2nd overall at the USU Academic Olympiad competition.

1. Sheri Bennett, Brian Hansen and Damian Mitchell came into the class at the semester break. 2. Mrs. Heers managed to keep the class motivated and on task all year.

Cultural Fun

Headed by Mrs. Cattani, the Renaissance Club had another eventful year. During the year, the members enriched their cultural awareness and learned proper etiquette. The club attended many live theater performances including the opera "Carmen" and the ballet of "Romeo and Juliet". For their service project, the club served Sloppy Joes and homemade rootbeer, and provided war paint prior to the homecoming game.

1. Tawnee Gebbs and Eugene McEntire really got involved with the Idaho Shakespearean actors. 2. Many students enjoyed the dinner that the Renaissance club provided prior to the homecoming game.

Theatrical

Even though there was not a school play this year, the drama club had many performances. Mrs. Heers, advisor, arranged for the club to put on a children's play of "Annie, Get Your Gun" at the Oakwood. Many of the club members took part in the school musical. Many people participated in district this year and ten people qualified to go to state. In order to qualify for state the participant must be in the top 1/3 at district. At the state competition Carrie Stewart, Kandice Kotter, and Heather Christensen were semi-finalists. Kandice Kotter summed up this year's events: "Although district and state competitions were not well organized, children's theatre and other PHS productions kept this year's drama club 'acting'."

FFA was among the most active clubs in the school this year, competing at least twice every month in district competitions along with other events, such as State Leadership and State Contests. The members put in many hours to represent the Preston Chapter well. Advisor, Mr. Lynn Hjorth, felt they were a "hard-working group that wasn't satisfied letting things slide." This was evident as four more individuals earned the State FFA Degree (previously called State Farmer). They included Amy Sharp, Ginger Bodily, Zane Porter and Pat Gilbert. This year's president was Wade Meek.

1. A rafting trip down the Locksaw was a good break from the state convention. 2. The FFA Week Social went over big with Blaine Meek and Nathan Winward. 3. Amy Sharp receives her State FFA Degree. 4. The FHA, advised by Mrs. Erickson, had a successful year. The FHA has been involved in district star events, district and state conventions held in Boise. The members had fund-raisers, quilt raffles, table setting contest, and "Adopt a Grandparent". The FHA had their annual closing dinner, and their election banquet. This year's president was Dionne Moser.

1. Bobbi Jo Yearsley and her mother enjoy her award-winning table. 2. Penny Swann, Mary Spotten, and Mary Wagner have a "hotdog" of a time! 3. These students find that cooking can be very interesting. 4. Candice Chatterton, Chad Noyes, and Julie Womack are all caught up in "stitches".

Between supporting teams at games, decorating lockers, making posters and preparing for pep assemblies, the cheerleaders keep a pretty tight schedule. They did an excellent job at clinic, bringing home three blue ribbons and a spirit stick. Mary Jean Newbold was this year's mascot and this year's head cheerleaders were Leslie Kingsford and Heather Webb. The advisors were Corey and Penny Johnson.

The cheerleaders always come up with ingenious ways to be in the homecoming parade.

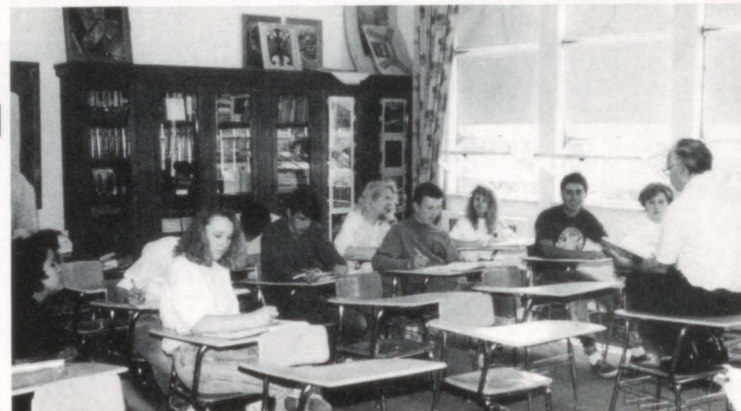

Guten Tag!

The German Club was advised by Mr. Mitchell. The President once again was Sam Mitchell. The German Club consists of seventy to eighty members, most of whom are in German classes. As Sam Mitchell put it, "It's been a good group." Their activities were sponsored by the vending machines. This year, the German Club hasn't had as many activities as past years, since they are in-between years that they exchange with German students.

1. Miss Snow's class came up with some interesting pinatas. 2. Breaking the pinatas vented the students frustrations. 3. Fortunately, none of the flour babies were mistaken for pinatas.

Dazzling

The Phi-Dels had another outstanding year. Nelda Kissinger and Kathy Stranski advised the group once again this year. The Phi-Dels, decked out in their new uniforms, presented stunning performances during half-time, at Homecoming and at many athletic games. They also had the opportunity to perform at half-time at the State Championship Tournament for basketball. At District, the Phi-Dels were a stand-out, by taking first place in the prop division. This year's President was Celece Kissinger and the drill mistress was Misty Sorenson.

Bull's-eye

Mr. Biggs' rifle team was one of the well-kept secrets at PHS this year, not receiving nearly the recognition they deserved. In local competition, they placed 1st in every match except the USU Invitational, where they placed 2nd, competing against college teams. They were state champs in the air rifle competition and went on to place 3rd in the Western Regionals and 18th in the Nationals. In small bore competition, they won the Jr. Olympic State Championship. Three separate team school records were broken this year. They were a "pretty good team," Mr. Biggs understated. Individual honors came to Shad Moser and Rob Hull, who tied for first at state in air rifles. Kelly Biggs was state runner-up in small bore and Kevin Geddes placed first in high power rifles. Three team members, Kelly Biggs, Shad Moser and Rob Hull, have trained at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs. This year's president was Shad Moser.

1. Shane Checketts finds the mark. 2. Shad Moser's nerves of steel have served him well during his high school career. 3. Kelly Biggs and Woody Moser find that lying down on the job is the only way to go.

Bonjour

This was the first year for French to be offered at PHS, and Mrs. Stewart took on the exciting new class. Towards the middle of the year, a French Club was organized with Janalee Balls as the first president. For their service project, the club did something different and held a French Language Awareness Day. They also participated at the ISU foreign language fair and some went to a French submersion camp in McCall, Idaho.

1. Ami Henderson, Holli Niederhauser, and Valisa Porter admire the imaginative French buttons that Mindy Dockstader and Mary Beckstead are selling. 2. The cream puffs and baguettes went fast on French Day. 3. Mrs. Stewart's French class sampled many French foods throughout the year.

Horns a plenty

Mr. Tom Nelson's band continues to get better each year. In addition to the quality sound of last year's band, the numbers have increased to produce a richer, fuller sound. The judges at the District Festival must have agreed. They awarded the PHS Band a superior rating and ranked them as the top band in the festival. Besides being a quality concert band, they also triple as a marching band and pep band, adding greatly to many activities and sporting events. Dominated by underclassmen, including many eighth graders, the band promises a bright future. Stacey Smith was this year's drum major with Melissa McEntire as assistant.

1. Ryan Beckstead looks pretty "saxy". 2. The woodwinds sound as pretty as they look. 3. Eric Hansen, Brady Campbell and Drew Erickson should anchor a strong bass section for years to come. 4. What kind of a Homecoming parade would it be without the PHS Marching Band? 5. The Phi-Dels benefitted from the talents of the drum corps.

6. The band gave the boys' basketball team a big lift at state. 7. Tim Rawlings has the beat. 8. Stacey Smith, Melissa McEntire and Hannah Costley form a trio with a unique combination of instruments.

Speechify

Mr. Derricott's speech club, although not as big as in past years, came home from Fifth District Speech Festival with several honors and recognitions. PHS was in charge of the festival radio-speaking scripts. Lydia Olson qualified for State Speech with her expository speech on traveling as a tourist. Other awards went to Kandice Kotter, Barbara Miller, and Jamie Cobum. This year's president was Mindy Jensen.

Creative

Mr. Corey Johnson really kept the Art Club busy this year. They took a trip to the Tetons where they painted on location and toured the galleries in Jackson Hole, Wyoming. They helped put together the "Prism" magazine and put on their annual art show at the end of the year. The art show was the "best ever," according to Mr. Johnson, with a record number of people attending. This year, Kevin Geddes and Saundra Weeks acted as co-presidents for the club.

The Rodeo Club, led by Leonard Ward, Launa Moser, and President, Nathan Ward, was one of the largest at PHS in recent years. They had strong showings at every rodeo, and had top contenders in several events. "We've been a club to be reckoned with," commented Mrs. Moser. Those placing at the District competition in Filer were: Wes Harris, 2nd Bull riding; Bracken Christensen, 4th Cow Cutting; Mike Roholt and Travis Talbot, 1st Bareback; Wes Bodily (with a partner from Grace), 3rd Team Roping; Nathan and Scott Ward, 4th Teamroping; Nathan Ward, 1st Bulldogging; Scott Ward, 2nd Bulldogging and 3rd Calf roping; Tony Hyde, 4th Bulldogging; and Bobbi Jo Clark, 4th Cow Cutting and 1st attendant in the District Rodeo Queen Royalty.

1. Tony Hyde's lasso is right on the money. 2. The cattle didn't have a chance against the Ward brothers. 3. Wonder if Jason Bunderson had stiff muscles the next morning? 4. Wyatt Olsen hangs on for dear life! 5. Wes Bodily's calf is at the end of its rope. 6. Mike Roholt learned to appreciate a good pick-up man. 7. Travis Talbot will soon part company with his mount. 8. Bobbi Jo Clark negotiates a tight bend around the pole. 9. Kara Nielson follows the "Dodge" instructions very well.

Scholars

The National Honor Society is a national organization of students that have excelled in various areas, such as scholarship, leadership, service and character, during their high school years. This year, the club was headed by President Bruce Koch and advisor, Mr. Koch. For their service project the members planted flowers in front of the school.

As is traditional, the History Club is made up of the senior honors government and junior honors history classes, with Mr. Womack and Mrs. Kissinger as their advisors. This year's activities ranged from parties, youth legislature, mock congress, to the Close-Up trip to Washington D.C. and several guest speakers. Their service project was planting flowers for the school, but, Brandon Woolf stated, some of the funnest times were "when all of the choir was in Poland and we sat in Mr. Womack's room and goofed off while we talked about Youth Leg."

1. Carrie Stewart can't seem to catch up with the History Club's entry in the Homecoming parade. 2. Senator James McClure was one of the many guest speakers that the History Club arranged to have at PHS. 3. Bruce Koch, Brian Hansen, Curtis Poole, and Ryan Thomas have an in depth conversation with Representative Richard Stallings.

Travelers.

The foreign exchange program has become very popular at Preston High. Through this program, students are able to come to school in the United States, improve their English and make new friends. In return, students at Preston learn about other cultures and countries from the exchange students. This year, the exchange students took a vacation to Mazatlan.

1. Mikel Hald learned football the "American" way. 2. Camilla Broechner, Mimi Saida, Svenja Meteling, and Gema Munoz got involved in the homecoming activities.

Drug-free

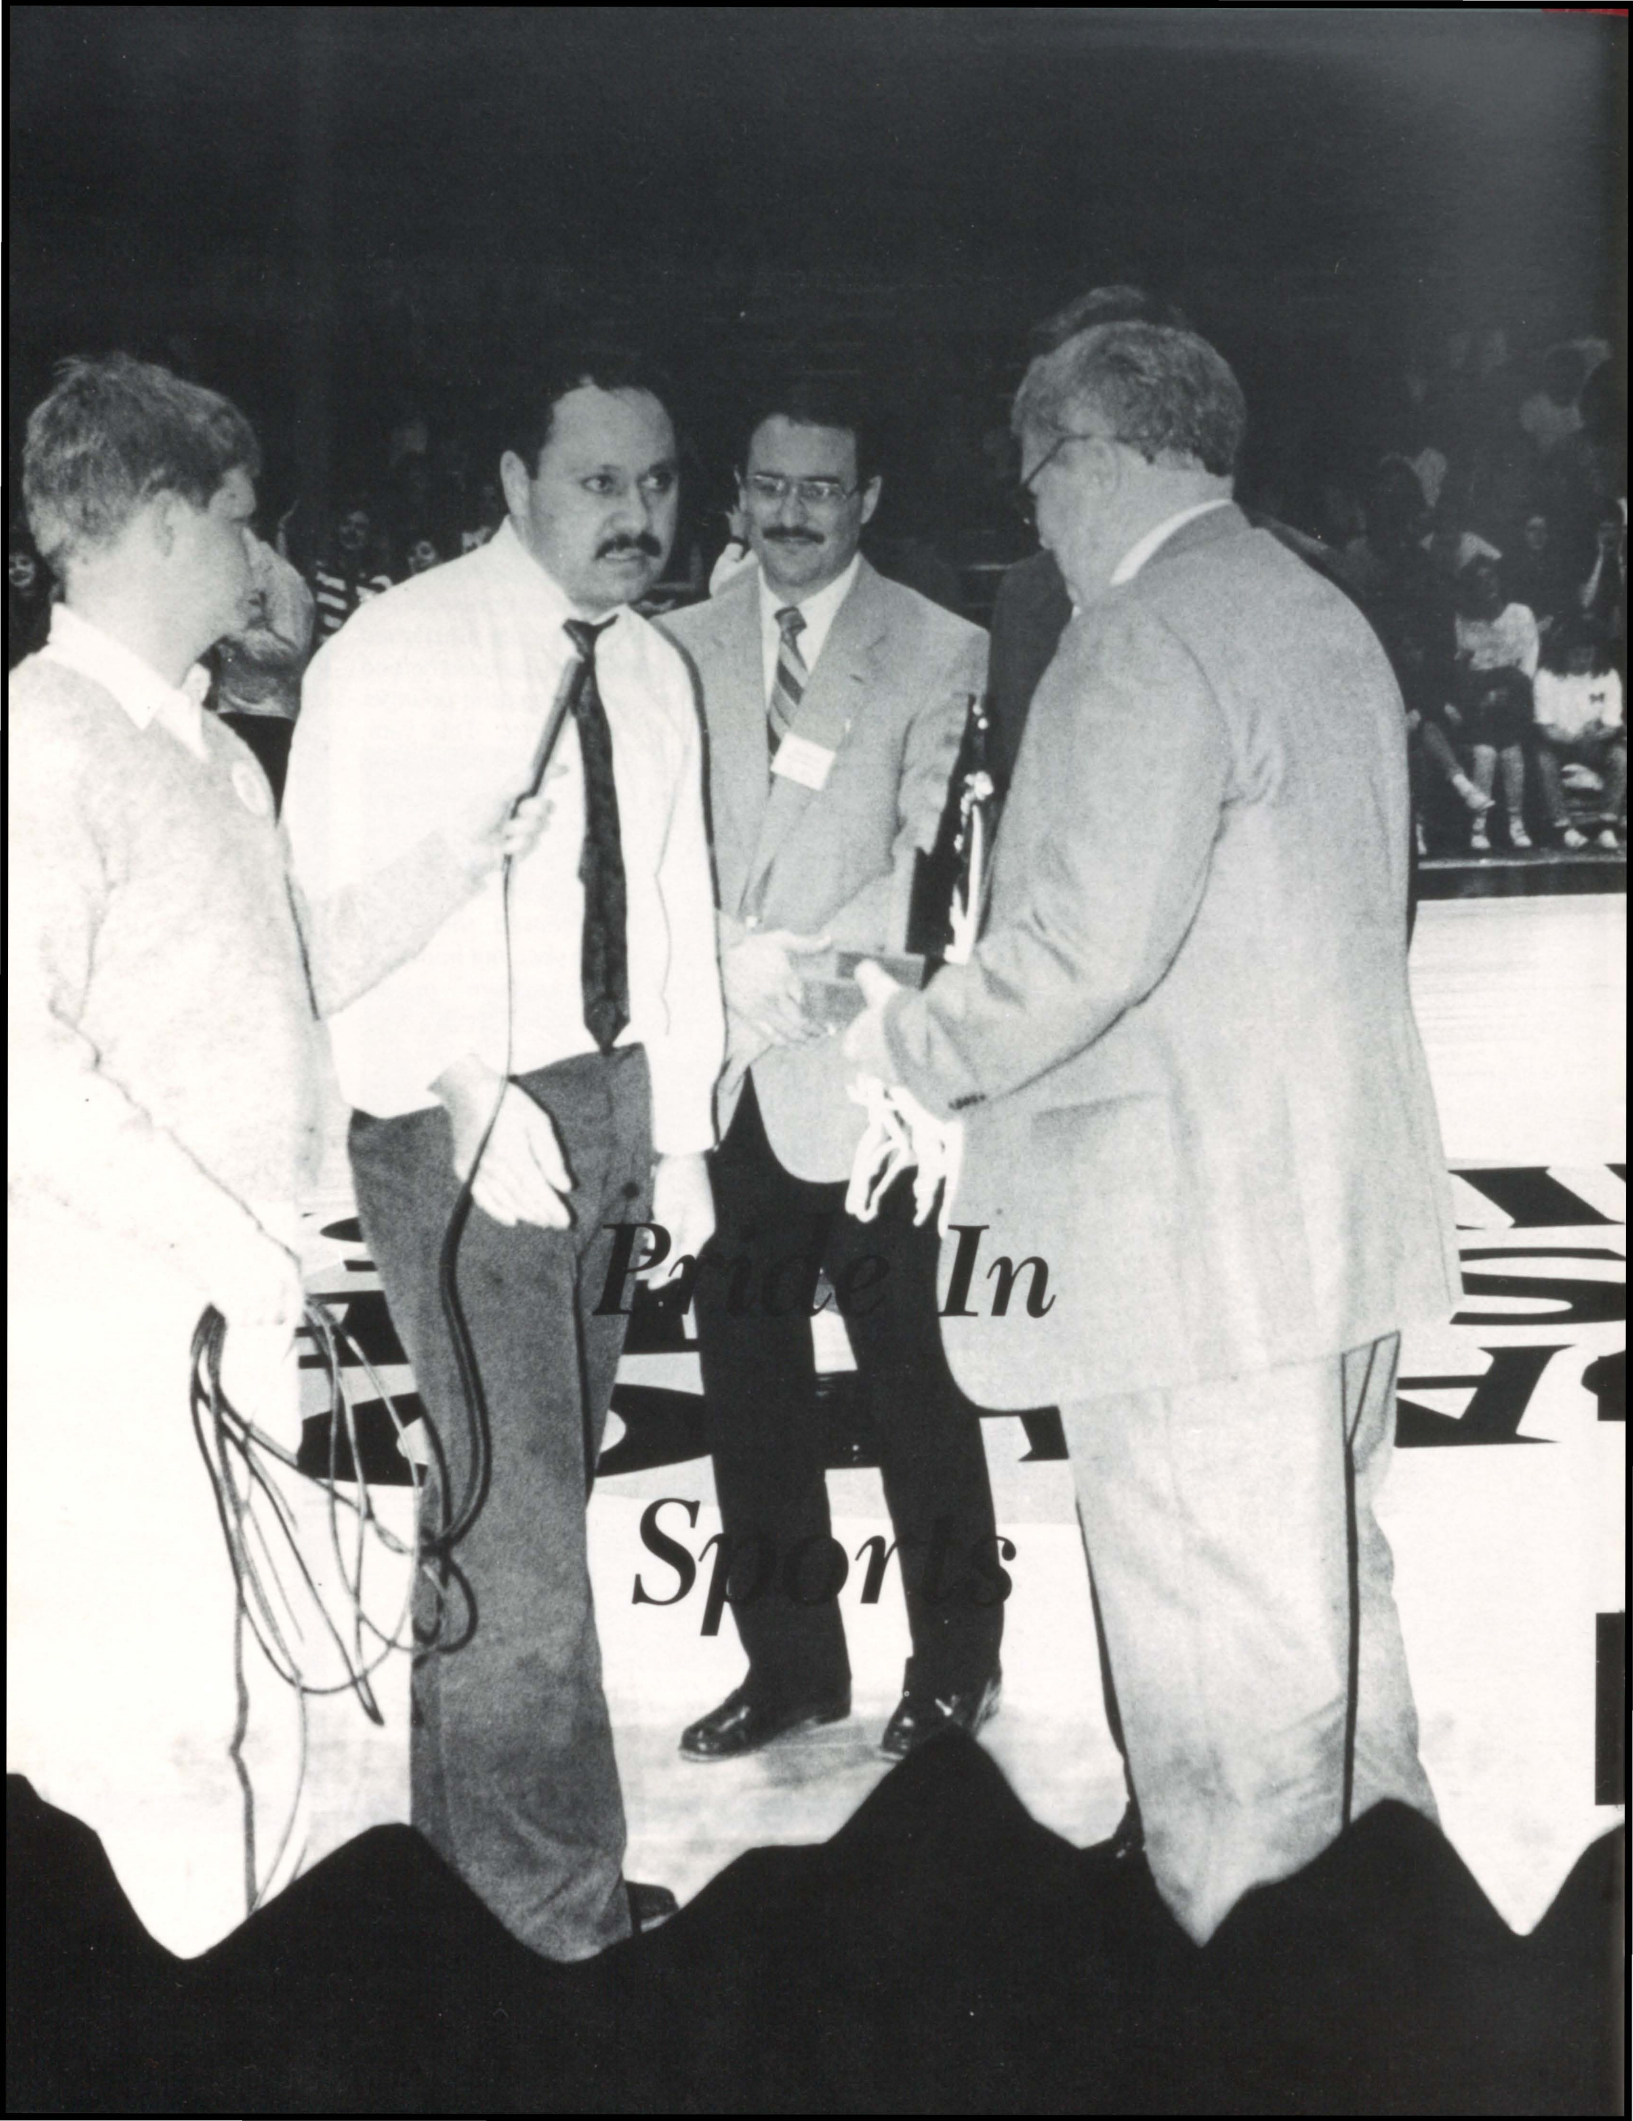

A new club had its beginning this year. KIK (Kids Influencing Kids), with Carrie Stewart as president, is a group of students concerned with the mental, emotional and social welfare of fellow students, especially as they relate to the pressures to abuse drugs. They not only functioned on the high school level, but also helped to educate and encourage the younger population of the district. This year, they put on a carnival at the Oakwood Elementary to mix a little fun with their message. They traveled to Salt Lake City to attend the Utah Federation of Drug Free Youth Convention. Stephanie Smith commented that they "weren't very big this year, but hopefully will be bigger in the future" as the program gets more exposure.

1. Quick steps and strong arms contributed to the team's many victories. 2. Despite her knee problems, Dana Kay Dunn played outstanding ball.

A positive attitude and an enormous amount of enthusiasm pumped up and brought forth a giant team effort by the Girls JV Basketball team. The team proved this by its 11-9 record. They were urged on to a great season by coach Lola Talbot and team captains Melanie Christensen, and Amber Haslam.

Another Winning Season

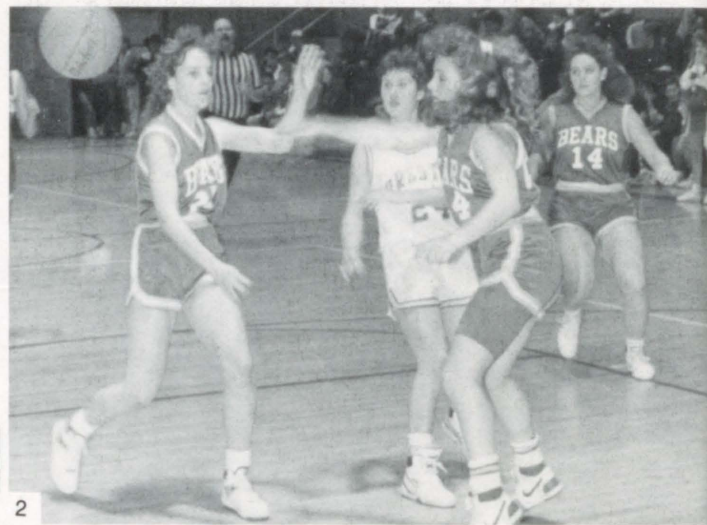

Disappointing Finish

Although the Girl's Varsity Basketball team ended on a sad note as they failed to qualify for the State Tournament for the first time as an A-2 team, they had another good season. Despite being ranked in the lower half in the preseason coaches' poll, they entered the district tourney as the top seed with a 7-1 district mark and proceeded to dismantle American Falls 75-37. In the championship game, they lost to Snake River. They had one more chance to qualify for state, but lost in overtime to Marsh Valley. Coach Kimber Hall summarized the season by saying, "The girls played a whole lot better than I thought that they would play."

STATE CHAMPS!

The boys basketball team, under the direction of Coach Dave Filimoehala, had an outstanding season, ending with a 21-4 record. The season began with a promising start as the Indians won the Cache Valley Classic for the first time. Milt Yearsley was MVP of the tournament with Bill Golightly and Jake Hamblin named to the all tournament team. Throughout the season the Indians dominated, winning by wide margins many times. The biggest "blow-out" was a 44 point win over American Falls. In the title game of the district tournament the team met the Marsh Valley Eagles who had beaten the Indians both times the teams met during the regular season. However, the Indians swept past the Eagles 58-42 capturing the District Champion. The season came to an exciting climax when they took the state championship for the second straight year, beating Bishop Kelley 67-66 on a last second shot by Doug Meek after a great assist by Milt Yearsley. As Jake Hamblin put it, "Ya gotta love it baby!" Milt Yearsley was named to First Team All State with Doug Meek and Darrin Larsen named to Second Team All State.

Gaining momentum

More records fall

Head coach Marv Majerus' track team had a strong showing this year. Five school records fell to members of this year's squad. Mercedes Jensen, Neilly Bell, Marie Gregory, and Jennifer Harris ran the medley relay in 2:00.1. Marie Gregory, Jennifer Harris, Neilly Bell, and Mercedes Jensen, posted a 4:20 in the 1600 m. relay. Mercedes Jensen set a new school record in the 400 m., with a time of 62.4 seconds. Andrea Carter had a triple jump of 34'9", and also high jumped 5'2". Doug Meek and Mercedes Jensen both placed 5th in the 400 m. at state. Andy Cromwell gained some state honors in two events placing 4th in the 3200 m. and 6th in the 1600 m. Others who qualified for state were: Rustin Hatch, Andrea Carter, Neilly Bell, Wynette Pace, Dana Kay Dunn, Bridgett Burns, Nicki Mather, Marie Gregory, and Jennifer Harris.

State Runner-Up

District Champs

A lot of practice and dedication paid off this year for Coach Dave Filimoehala's golf team. During the season the team participated in many meets and had top three finishes in many of them. For the first time in several years, the team captured the district title. At state, the team was expecting challenges from Buhl and Jerome, but "out of nowhere" came Priest River to outdistance the rest of the field. However, the team came in in front of Buhl and Jerome capturing the title of state runner-up. Milt Yearsley was the silver medalist at the state tournament.

Getting Revenge

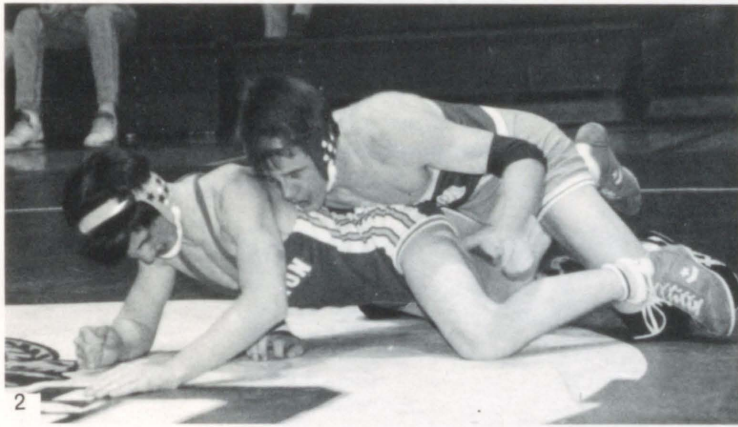

Beat State Champs, Snake River

Sports enthusiasm carried over into wrestling as Coach Higley's team fielded three wrestlers in the State Tournament; Dalan Anderson — first place, Lance Burbank — second place and Earl Owen — fifth place. The team took fourth place at District and placed well at other tournaments. They were 6-3 in dual meets. One of the main highlights of the year was beating perennial state power, Snake River, in their only head to head competition. Lance Burbank stated, "We had a good season, and the team is going to do good in the next few years when the younger wrestlers get going."

Gaining respect

Baseball program improving

With first year Coach Kimber Hall at the helm and assisted by Coach Jon Hyde, the PHS baseball team, in its third year, continues to show signs of coming into its own. Its 3-8 record was one win less than last year, but the winning percentage was actually a little higher than last year because they played less games. Weather put a damper on the season, forcing games to be cancelled, postponed or played in less than favorable conditions. Despite the obstacles, the team persevered to the end and came up with an impressive 15-3 drubbing to oust Buhl from the district tournament, before being eliminated itself by Bear Lake. With an abundance of up and coming underclassmen, the squad looks to continue its upward trend in the near future.

Disappointing Season

3-6 Record

The football team, coached by Coach Marv Majerus, suffered a disappointing 3-6 season. There were many close games that came down to only one or two plays. All four district games were decided by less than a touchdown. Rick Fellows, senior defensive cornerback, commented, "We had a good team, we should have been in the top ten in the state, but we just didn't make it to our full potential." Despite the losing record, a timely win came when the team thumped South Freemont during Homecoming.

2nd at State

District Champs

Coached by Mrs. Launa Moser, this year's varsity volleyball team ended with a winning record of 23-6. The team captured district once again, sending Preston to State. At State Preston was defeated by Vallivue the first day, but got avenged later in the tournament. The next day Preston surprised everyone and sent four teams home and qualified for the championship game. But they couldn't overpower St. Maries in their 5th match of the day. Coach Moser was quoted as saying, "It was incredible to play that well after being so tired." Individual honors went to Mary Ann Keller, Shelli Phillips, Nichole Mather, and Andrea Carter, who were named 2nd team All-State.

Coach Launa Moser

1. Shelli Phillips shows good positioning when passing the ball. 2. Andrea Carter was named MVP of the Wood River tournament. 3. Leslie Kingsford really "digs" volleyball. 4. Penny Taylor's skill added to another victorious season. 5. Sheila Dunkley did an excellent job this year covering for Mary Ann Keller when she was injured in the Wood River Tournament. 6. Nicki Mather reaches for new heights in volleyball. 7. The team eagerly anticipates Coach Moser's words. 8. Shelli Phillips finds that praying helps.

Proves Power

Win JV Tournament

“I can see a lot of potential,” said varsity coach Launa Moser, when referring to the JV volleyball team. The team, coached by Jill Hobbs, proved their strength by winning a tough tournament against all A-2 and A-3 schools in District 5. The season ended with a promising 15-5 record.

Graduation, once again, was a night full of many emotions; many graduates were ecstatic while many were "teary-eyed". The class of 1990's commencement exercises were unsurpassed. Student speakers included Valedictorian Dalan Anderson and Salutatorian Ryan Thomas. Student Body President, Heather Christensen talked on this year's theme, "Be Moved to Dream,

Then Dare to Do". Senior Class President, Curtis Poole presented the class gift, which was a stone monument with the school's name and mascot engraved into it. The monument will stand by the plaza. Jack Johnson, a 1960 PHS graduate, was the guest speaker. He presented a remarkable talk to the class of '90 that will be remembered by many. The class then sang the alma mater, following which tassels were turned.

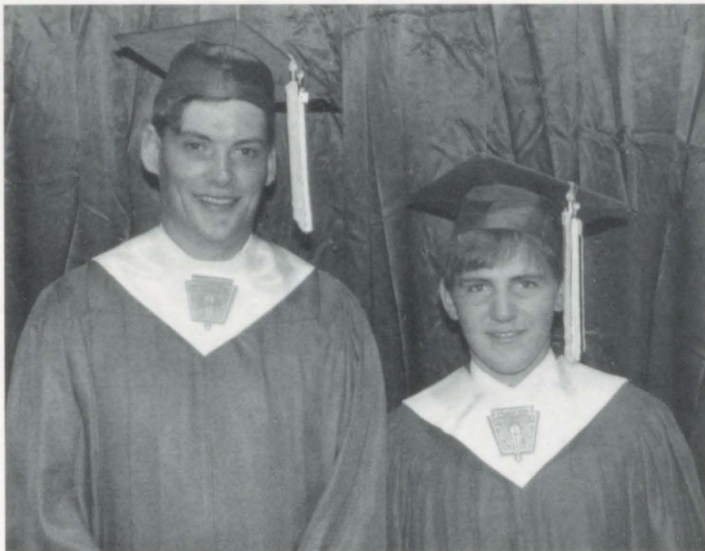

1. Shane Bartholme receives his diploma from Chairman Swainston. 2. An octet of seniors sing "The Times of Your Life". 3. The 122 graduates pay close attention to their commencement exercises. 4. Curtis Poole presents the senior gift. 5. The combined choruses and band put together an outstanding show of "From Sea to Shining Sea". 6. Jack Johnson was the guest speaker. 7. The class of '90 changes tassels. 8. Angie Golightly and Janis Archibald were not the only ones shedding tears following graduation. 9. Christi Gilbert and her parents enjoy the reception prior to the graduation.

Individual Accolades

Many of the students at PHS received recognition within the school and 5th District. But some went beyond that to be honored on the state and regional level. In addition to those pictured, honors also included: State Farmers — Amy Sharp, Ginger Bodily, Pat Gilbert and Zane Porter; Bruce Castleton was elected to a state office at Youth Legislature; Brenda Hansen placed at the state FHA competition in "job interview"; Collette Seamons and Lisa Stone placed in the Business Education competition in Idaho Falls.

Kelly Biggs was state runner up in the small bore rifle competition.

Robbie Hull and Shad Moser tied for first in the state air rifle competition.

Kevin Geddes took first place in the state high power rifle competition.

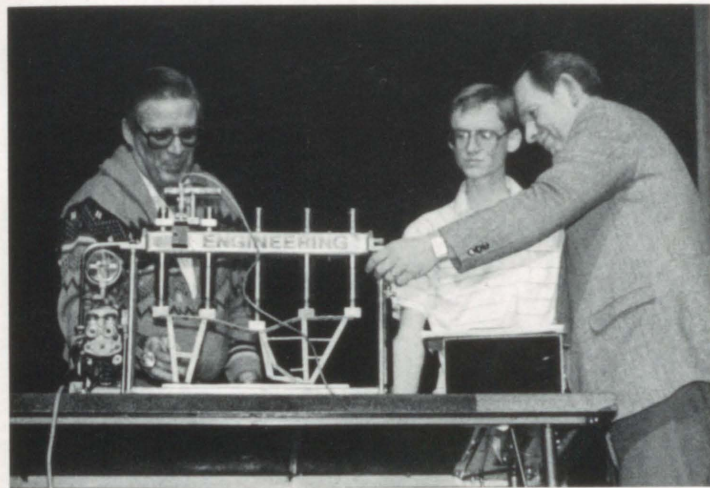

State Academic Decathlon Medalists: Janna Christensen, Molly Nelson, Joanna Fackrell, Sylvia Swainston, Sheri Bennett, Brian Hansen, Ryan Thomas, Aaron Womack

Jodie Stone took first place in the intermediate layout design at the Delmar Publishing Western Regional yearbook workshop competition.

All State Band: Drew Erickson, Eric Hansen, Hannah Costley, Stacie Smith, Melissa McEntire

Patrick Strong took first place at the USU bridge building contest, setting a new record of 2326 lbs.

Placing first in the state on the American High School Mathematic Exam were Dalan Andersen, Ryan Thomas and Doug Roberts.

Senior Standouts

Throughout the thirteen years the seniors are together, many people begin to stand out in the class in various areas. It has been a tradition at Preston High for many years for the Seniors to choose "their" Senior Personalities. Nominations are held first, following which the top three candidates in every area are voted on by all the seniors. Results are announced at the Senior Assembly. Although the awards are not that serious, they are a lot of fun, reflect many personalities, and recognize many students.

Alma Mater

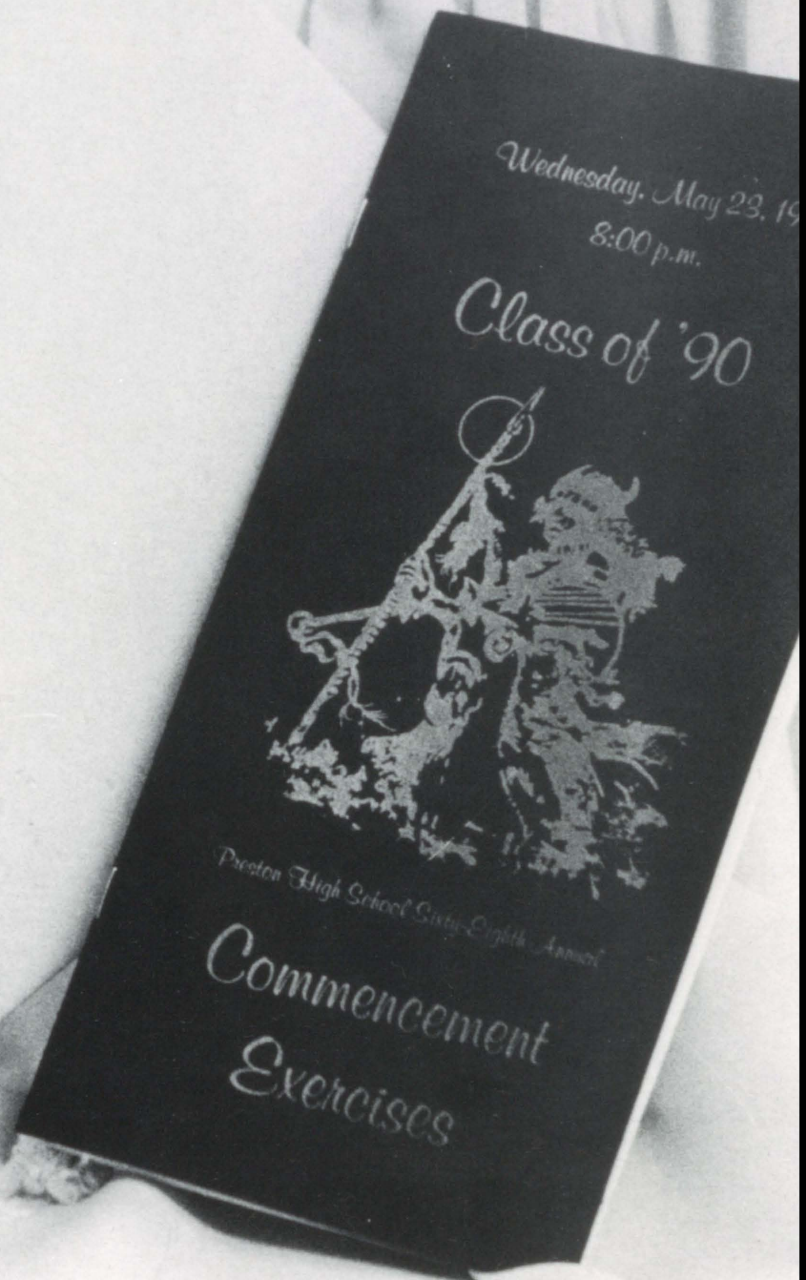

Preston High, Our Alma Mater
How our hearts do swell
When thy name is breathed or spoken
O' we love thee well.

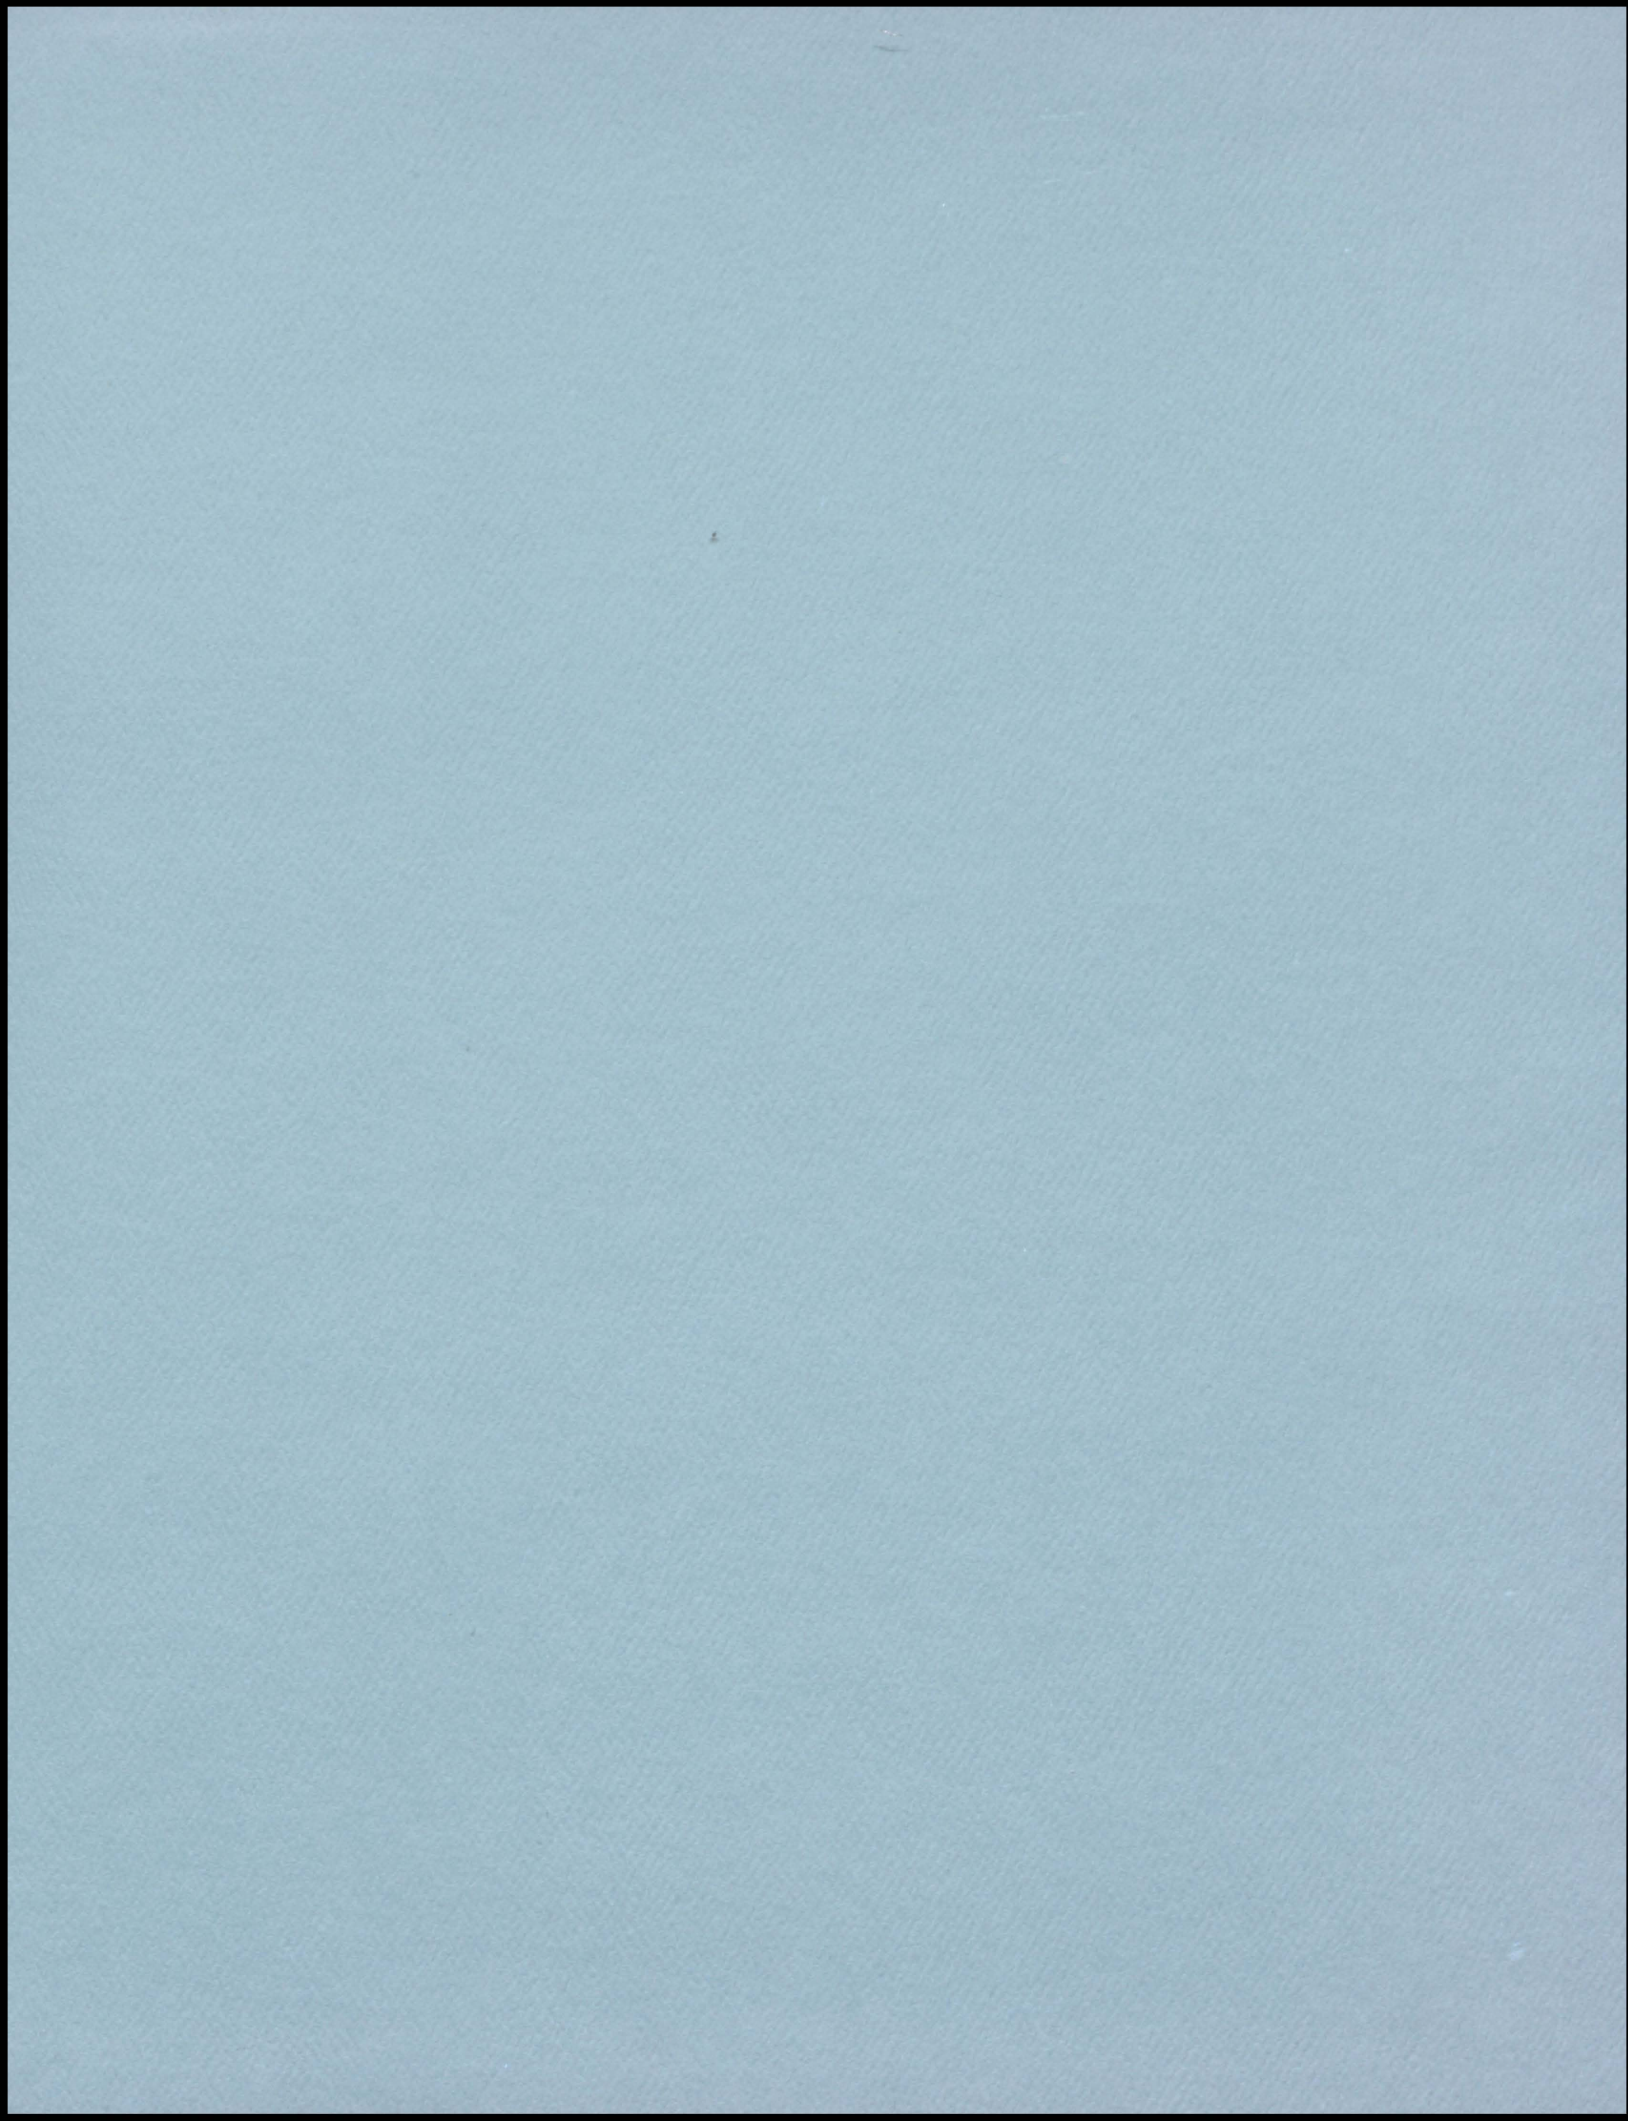

(Chorus)
Raise the emblems of our power
Hail the Blue and White
Sound a cheer the world can hear
Our spirit is our might.

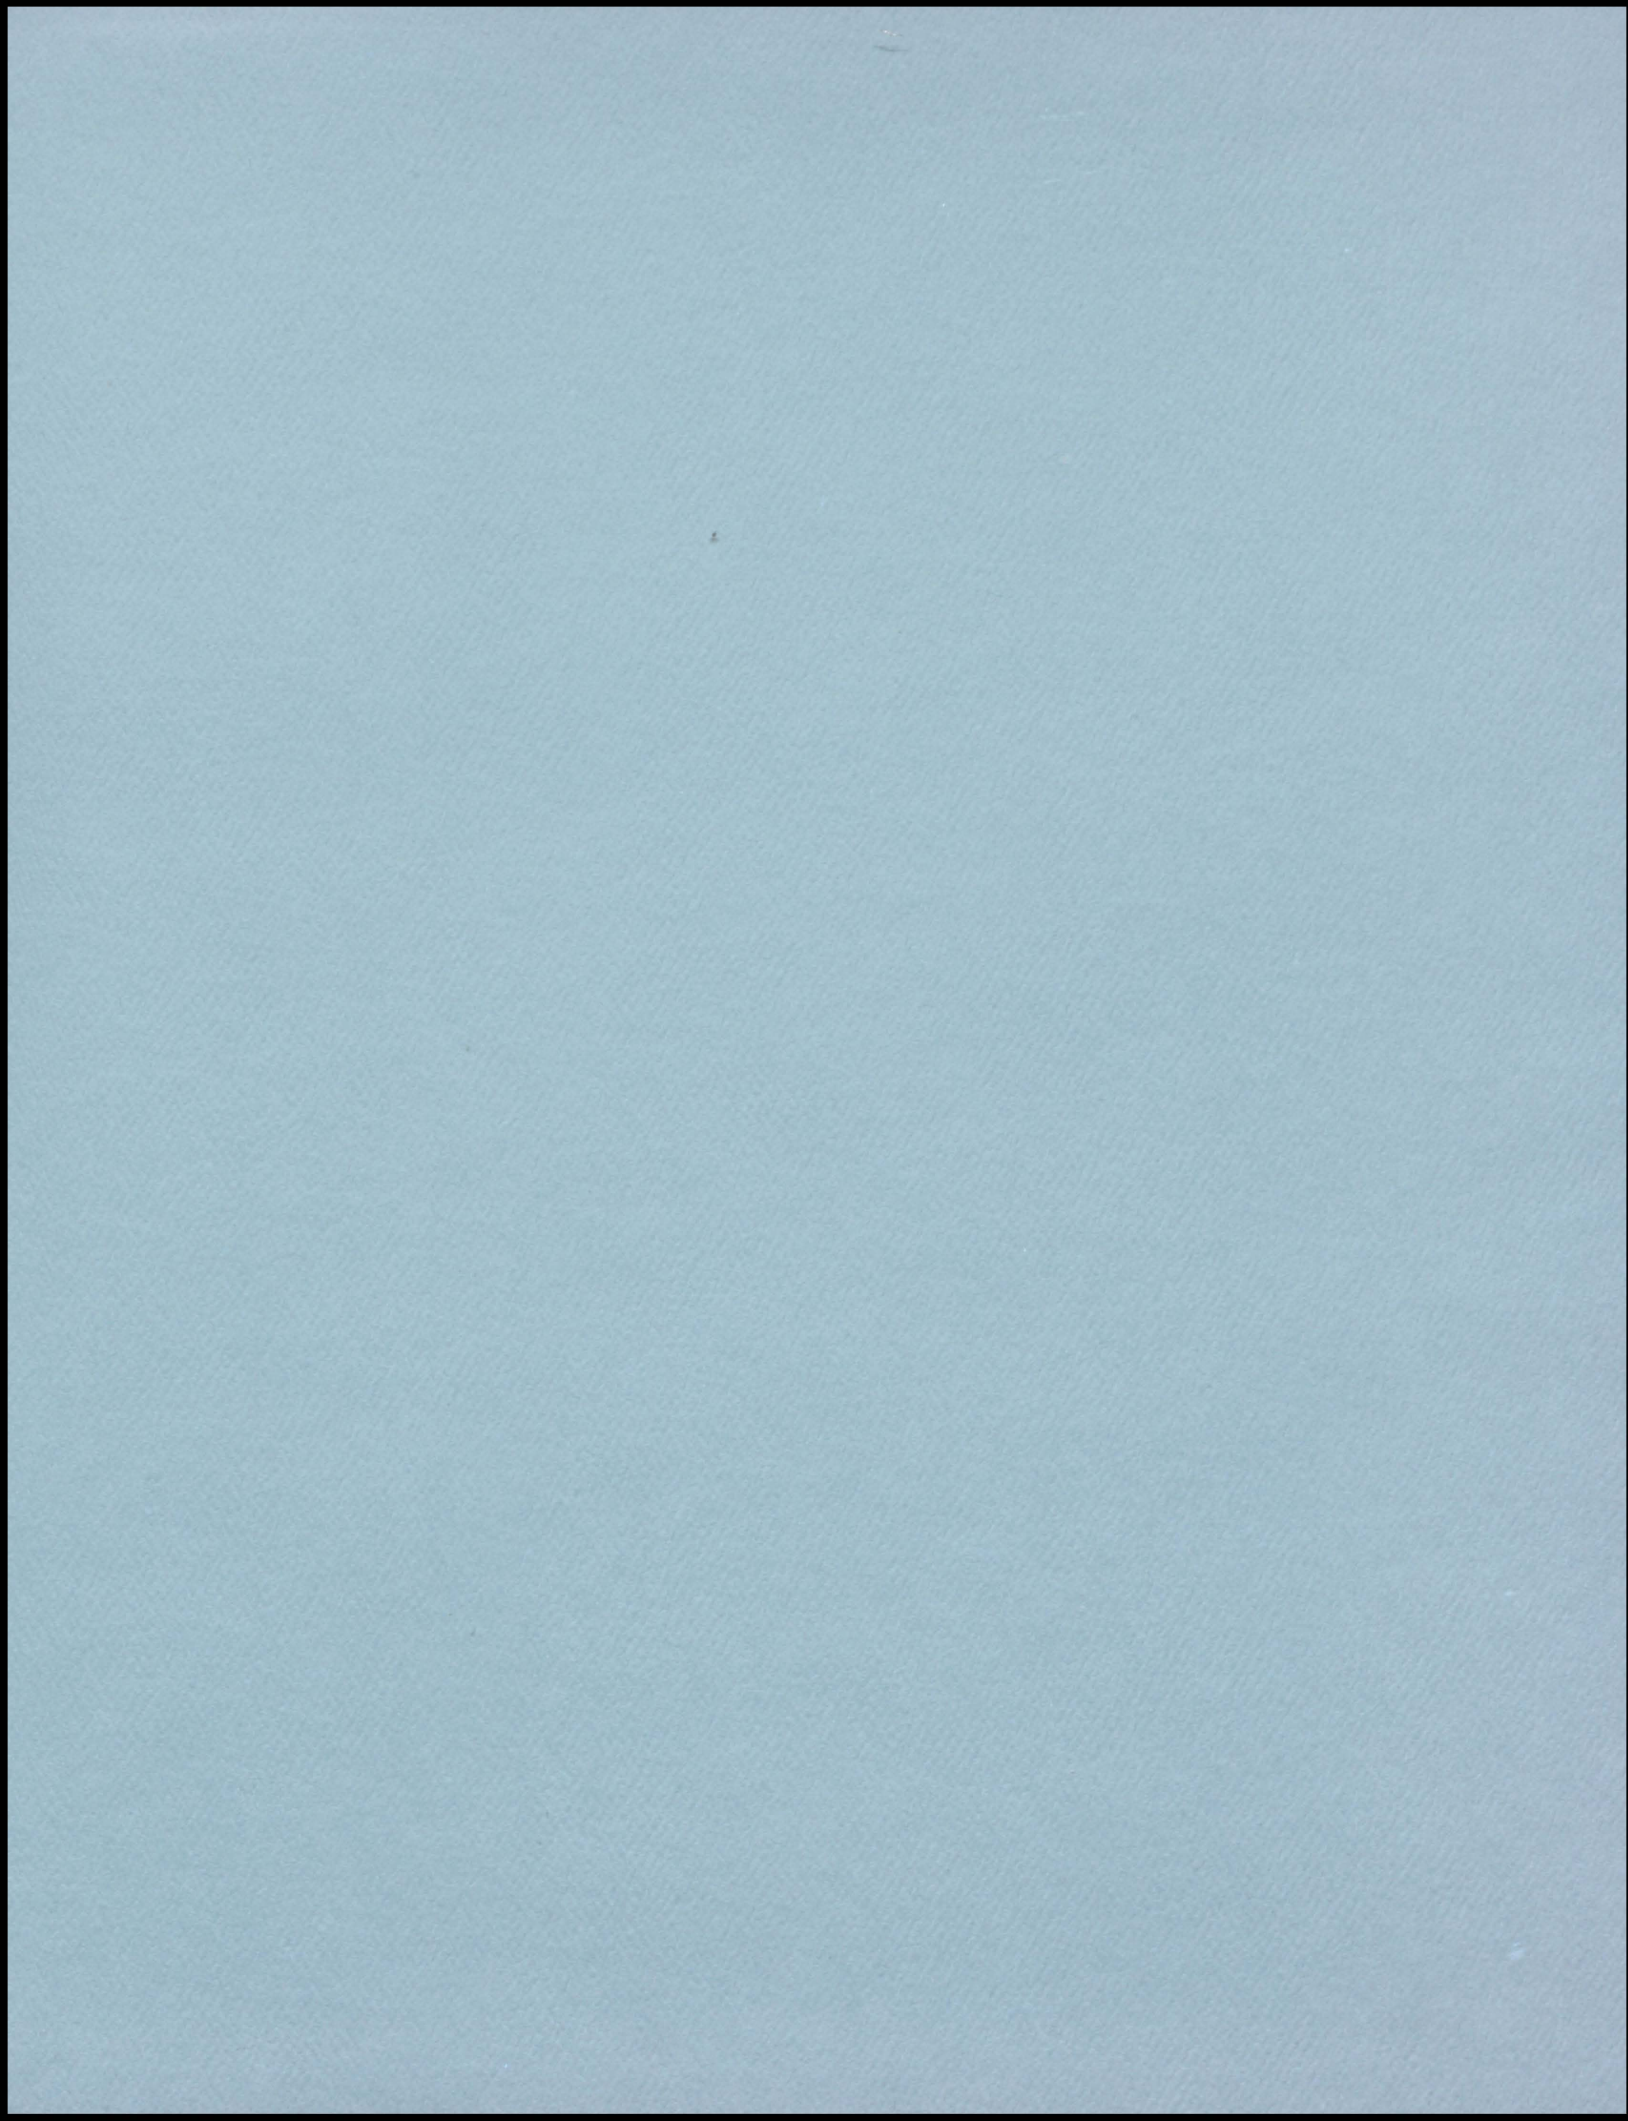

Admiration fills the students
At the color's sight
Blue and White the chosen symbols
Of our Preston High.

Many sacred memories linger
Round the old stone wall
Lo, in dreams, live voices echo
Through the time-worn halls.

When the years have bobbed our figures
And our hair is white
Memory's hand will guide our footsteps
Back to Preston High.
